

BIOGRAPHY

If classic rock, pop and blues is your thing...then look no further than "snake eyes". The guy's from "snake eyes" are committed to giving an exciting and memorable show everytime. On lead vocals is Andrew Jacobs, his versatile vocal range allows him to sing from hard rock to ballads and everything in between .Andrew has been singing in different bands in Sydney for the last 20 years, among these bands was "firebird" which supported the Angry Anderson/Pete wells band and Black label on many shows.

On a trip to America Andrew had the opportunity to sing in New Orleans on Bourbon St with a couple of bands, plucked from the audience after the singer on stage could hear Andrew's classically trained rock vocals from the dance floor. After playing gigs in Sydney and the south coast with "snake eyes" Andrew relocated to the Central Coast and auditioned many guitarists, the best man for the job was Al Iskandar.

With many years experience of playing, writing, recording and performing in various projects and bands Al has proven to be one of the central coasts up and coming guitarists. With influences that span many genres including blues, rock/hard rock and pop. With technical ability and raw emotion, Al's guitar work reflects the power from great players such as Eric Clapton, Stevie Ray Vaughn, Jimmy Page, and Gary Moore to name a few. Al's sound is unique yet familiar and is guaranteed to have the "air guitarists" and seasoned pros in the audience raising there fists for more! "Snake Eyes" are ready to strike at any time!!
